Instructor: Benjamin Zhang, ECON 04A, benjamin.zhang@colorado.edu

O ce Hours:

Lectures:

Attendance of the rst two classes is mandatory, and non-attendance may resulting in being administratively dropped from the course.

In some cases lecture will extend beyond the content of the textbook, so it is strongly encouraged you attend lecture. My lecture notes will not be available, so if you do miss a class you should plan on getting notes from a classmate. Lectures are intended to cover material from the book and connect the concepts to real world examples, providing additional in class practice when appropriate.

Grade Policy: There will be 4 components to your nal grade. Class participation 10% Exam 1 25% Thursday, September 29th Exam 2 25% Thursday, November 10th

Final Exam 40% See exam schedule on mycuinfo

Exams:

The exams will not be cumulative beyond the cumulative nature of the material. I do not give make-up exams nor do I give exams early. Any unexcused absence on an exam day will result in a zero for that exam. If you do have a valid emergency which precludes you from taking the exams on the given date, please communicate any con icts with exam dates as soon as possible; you will not instructors are more exible when you do not wait until the last minute to deal with con icts. Finally, no cell phone calculators are permitted for exams. Please bring a basic calculator or be prepared to do calculations with pen and paper.

If you have three or more nal exams scheduled on the same day, you are entitled to arrange an alternative exam time for the last exam or exams scheduled on that day. Also, if you have two nal exams scheduled to meet at the same time you are entitle to arrange an alternative examination time for the later course. To qualify for rescheduling nal exam times, you must provide evidence that you have three or more exams on the same day or two exams meeting at the same time, and arrangements must be made with your instructor no later than the late drop deadline.

Homework:

Over the semester there will be various problem sets posted on the course website, they are optional and does not count towards your grade. However, the exams will be heavily inspired from problems set questions. This should provide additional incentive for you to attempt them.

Problem Sets: As we progress through the semester I will post problem sets on the course website. They are intended to apply the theory and concepts from the textbook and lecture and help prepare you for the exams. I encourage you to work in small groups on these assignments. Since the exams are created with similar questions, problem set solutions will not be posted prior to the exam covering that material. However, I would be happy to go over the solutions to problems sets at any point during o ce hours.

O ce Hours:

These are for your bene t, please take advantage of them. It is an excellent opportunity to get individual or small group help to clarify concepts from class. If my o ce hours do not work for you due to another class or work, please email me and we can arrange a time to meet.

Email:

Please use email wisely. I will do my best to respond to emails in a timely fashion, usually less than 24 hours- I will not respond out of regular business hours (M-F 8-5). If your question has to do with clari cation, it may be di-cult to explain fully over email, so I will suggest coming to o ce hours. If I feel the entire class could bene t from the clari cation, I will do so in lecture. Finally, I will not answer emails which ask something administrative which is included on the syllabus, i.e. when is the exam?

Extra Help:

Dot not hesitate to come to my o ce during o ce hours or by appointment to discuss a homework problem or any aspect of the course. You also may want to consider the free tutoring lab
