

ECON4423: International Finance

DU

Course Description

The course covers the theory and practice of international finance, including exchange rates, international trade, and capital flows. It examines the effects of monetary and fiscal policies in an open economy and the role of international institutions in promoting financial stability and growth. The course also discusses the challenges of international financial integration and the impact of globalization on the world economy.

Course Outline

Part 1: Introduction to International Finance

1. Introduction to International Finance

2. The International Financial System

Part 2: Exchange Rates

3. Exchange Rates and International Trade

4. Exchange Rates and International Investment

9. Exchange Rates and International Capital Flows

10. Exchange Rates and International Financial Integration

11. Exchange Rates and International Financial Crises

12. Exchange Rates and International Monetary Policy

Part 3: The Balance of Payments

13. The Balance of Payments and International Trade

14. The Balance of Payments and International Investment

15. The Balance of Payments and International Capital Flows

16. The Balance of Payments and International Financial Crises

17. The Balance of Payments and International Monetary Policy

18. The Balance of Payments and International Financial Integration

19. The Balance of Payments and International Trade

Part 4: Policy Issues

8. Exchange Rates and International Trade

9. Exchange Rates and International Investment

9. Exchange Rates and International Capital Flows

10. Exchange Rates and International Financial Integration

University Policies

Y t e U t t

Q t t t

@ Q t t

Q t t fl t t

// /

U t t U t t

U t t U t t

A t t U t t

V t t A t t

@ ;

j

// /

//