Frank S.T. Hsiao

Four Decades of Outstanding Scholarship, Teaching, and Service

In the field of econometrics, he is considered a pioneer in the development of the theory of simultaneous equations models. His work has been fundamental in the development of the theory of rational expectations and in the development of the theory of dynamic stochastic general equilibrium models. He has also made significant contributions to the theory of asset pricing and to the theory of macroeconomic growth. His research has been widely cited and has influenced the work of many other economists. He has also been a dedicated teacher and mentor, and has supervised many graduate students who have gone on to become leading economists in their own right. His service to the profession has been exceptional, and he has been a member of several prestigious academies and societies. He has also been a frequent speaker at international conferences and has been honored with several awards for his contributions to the field of economics.
